

Headline: Woman cheated by bogus bank officer
Publication/Portal: New Sarawak Tribune
Date: 13 March 2018

Language: English
Section: Prime
Page: 2

Woman cheated by bogus bank officer

BY ADENG IDRUS

---

LIMBANG: An 18-year-old woman here claimed to have lost RM4,150 after being cheated by a bogus bank officer while applying for a loan online in February.

Limbang Police Chief, Superintendent Mohd Bukhori Saffai said: "The victim contacted the male suspect who offered a loan of RM10,000 through WhatsApp to find out more about the application procedure.

"She paid him the money which he requested as part of the application procedure."

Bukhori said the victim realised she had been cheated when the loan she applied for did not go into her account.

The woman from Kampung Pengkalan Gurah lodged a police report on February 24 at 9am.

Police are investigating the case.